How far has anyone ever fallen and lived?

In 1958 a plane in which a Southampton man, Flt.Lt. John de Salis and his Flying Officer from Potters Bar, Patrick Lowe, were flying, exploded at 56,000 ft. (10.60 miles up) and they fell free (without parachute opening) until they reached 10,000 feet when their parachutes automatically opened. They had free-fallen for 46,000 feet.

The highest altitude from which anyone has ever jumped, was in 1960, when U.S. Air Force Captain Joseph W. Kittinger, D.F.C. stepped out of a balloon at 102,000 feet. He fell free for 84,700 feet (16.04 miles) which lasted for 4 minutes 28 seconds, and he reached a speed of 614 m.p.h. His parachute opened at 71,500 feet and the whole drop took 13 minutes 8 seconds.

The Russians have done an 80,380 feet free fall, from 83,612 feet to 3,232 feet.

How is it that a Welshman is often called 'Taffy'?

Taffy is a corruption of Davy, which is short for David. The Welsh themselves pronounce the letter "v" as an "f" and so David becomes Taffid, and Davy is Taffy.

David is a popular name in Wales. St. David is the patron saint.

How to make a parachute?

First, you find yourself a paper napkin, some cotton, a key or something similar for a weight.

Cut four pieces of cotton all 12 inches long. Now tie each of these to a corner of the napkin. Very carefully gather the ends together, making sure they are all equal to tie round the key.

Throw the parachute into the air, and it will float down to the floor.

How did the Willow Pattern come to be on china?

It was copied from Chinese pottery and first produced in England in 1780. The picture on the plates is really the story of a Chinese legend.

A mandarin had an only daughter, Li-Chi, who fell in love with Chang, a young man who had once been her father's secretary. The mandarin, who lived in the big house, which can be seen on the right of the pattern, heard they were in love and forbade their engagement.

They eloped and escaped by boat to Chang's home. The enraged mandarin pursued them with a whip and would have beaten them to death had the gods not changed the lovers into a pair of turtle-doves, seen flying at the top of the pattern.

How likely is it that you know someone who shares your birthday?

If you took a group of say 50 people, it is almost certain that more than one person will have the same birthday. The actual likelihood is shown in the graph.

Therefore for ten people, there is only a one in ten chance that birthdays clash, for 30 people it is better than evens and for 50 to 60 people it is more or less certain.
